Interactive news

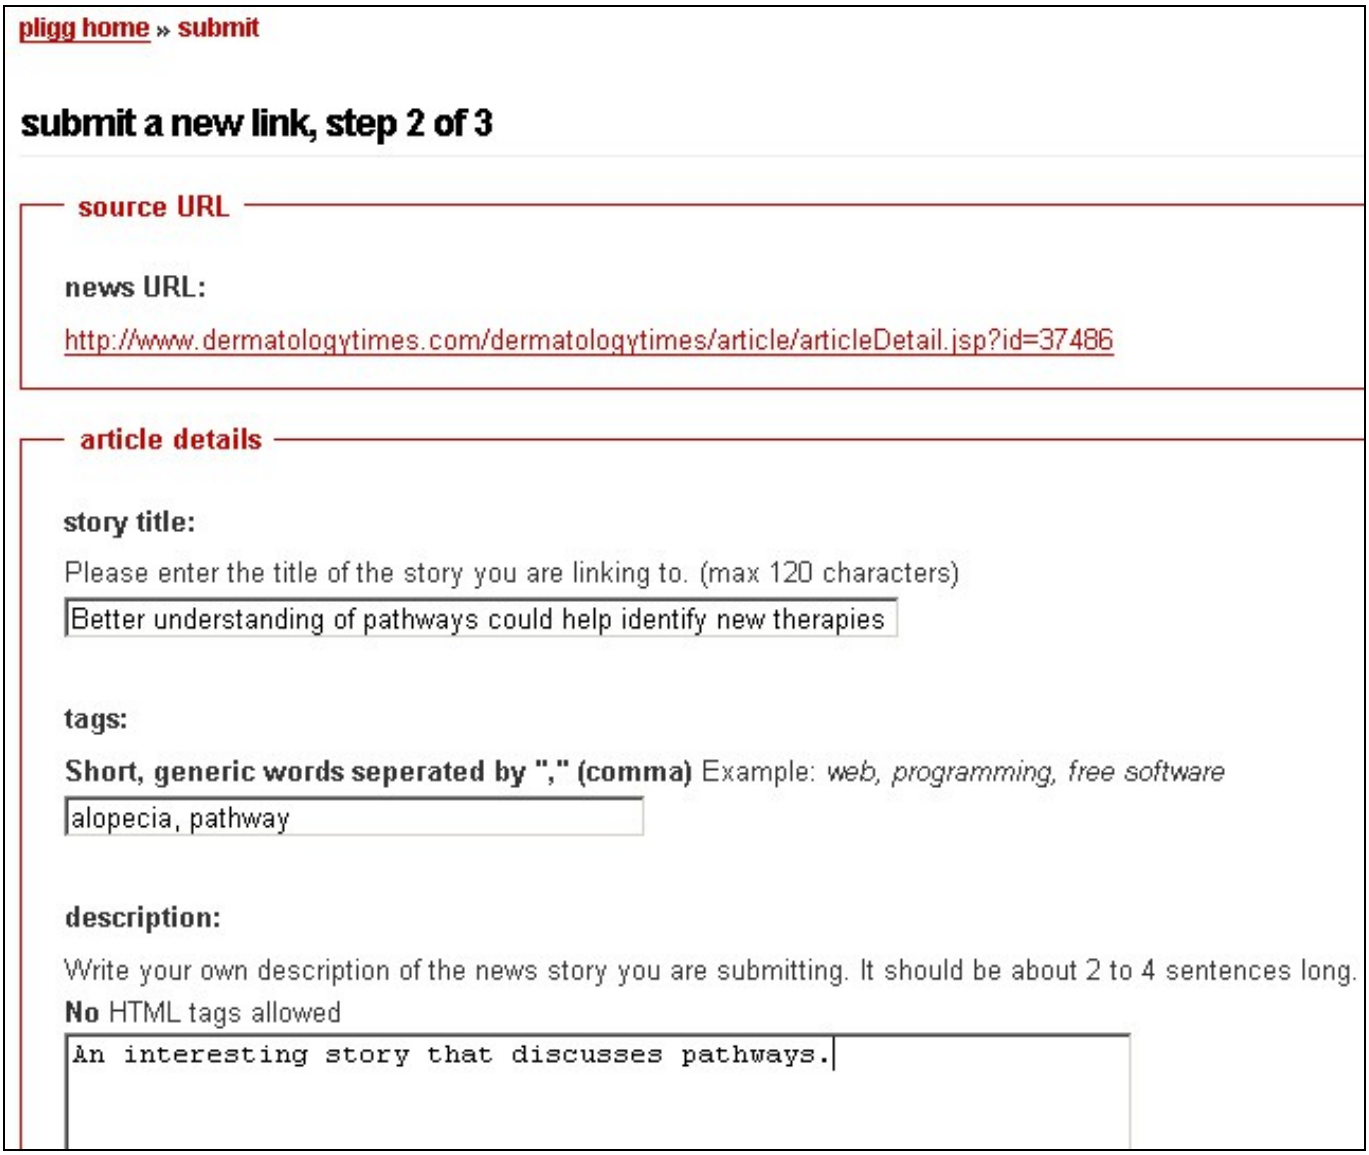

- The user browses and reads stories

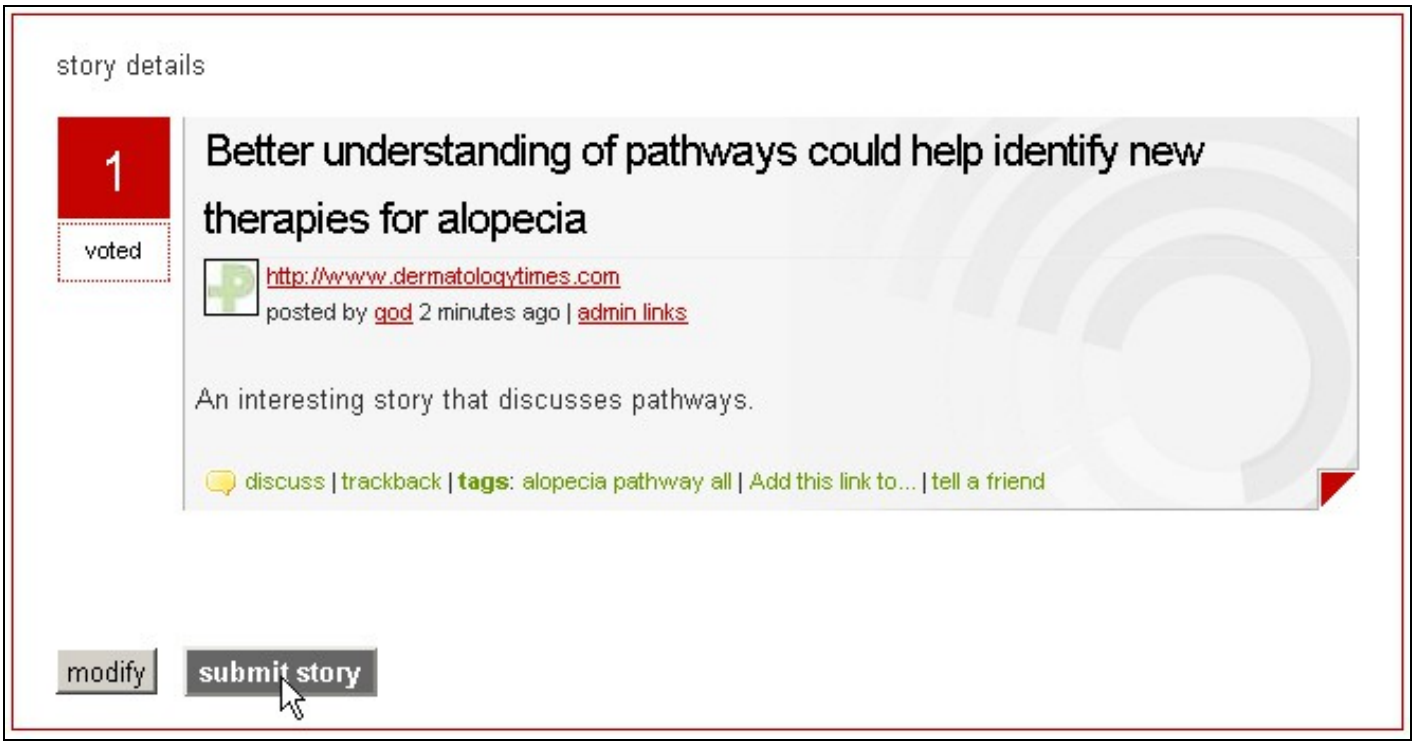

- The user finds this story interesting, and decides to mark it as such. Chooses a specially prepared bookmark from the browser bookmarks list

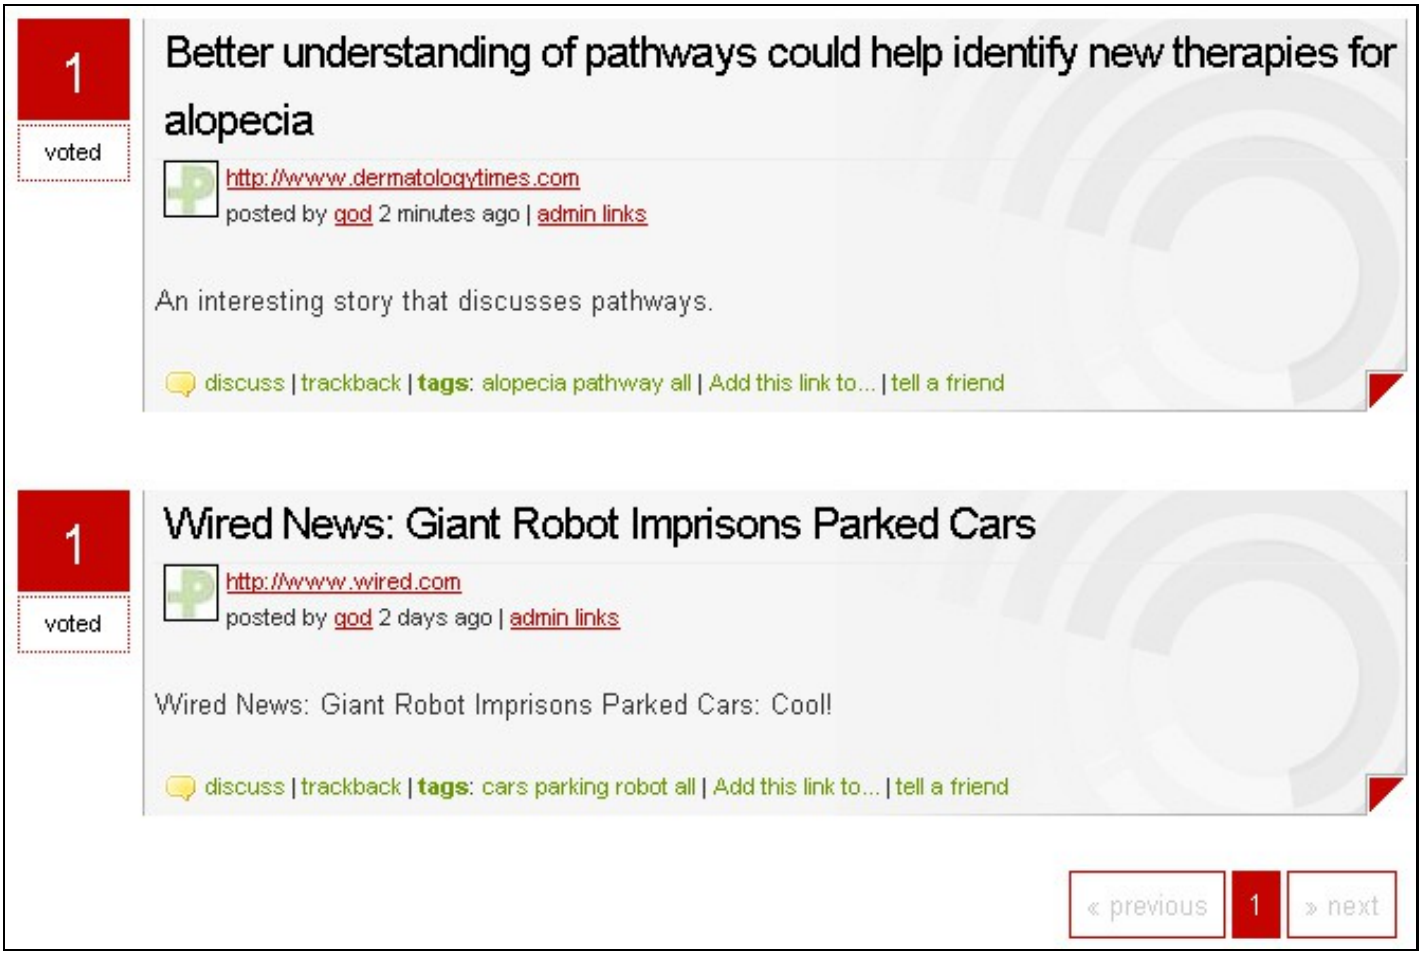

- The user fills out a title and description field and sumits the story

- The user confirms the story submission

- The story appears on the stories website. Its votes counter will change as other users vote for the story

- Dolcera monitors the story list on an ongoing basis, and makes adjustments in research focus depending on the stories users are voting for.