

Queen

After some days Snow-white went into the garden. One of the Queen's servants was going through the forest, and he saw her. He went and told the Queen what he had seen. The Queen was very angry, and she said to the servant, "If you have seen her, I will have her killed."